ANNUAL JUNIOR PROM REMARKABLE SUCCESS

On the evening of May 4 the Lang Gymnasium was the setting for the most magnificent, gorgeous, and spectacular event that Dummer students have ever had the pleasure of witnessing. This superb event for which superlatives fail in expression chanced to be the annual Promenade of the Junior Class. In every detail this dance surpassed any Junior Prom ever held. In decorations and favors the committee showed remarkable taste and judgement, in their selection of an orchestra their choice was most pleasing, and in the execution of the business and social obligations their tact was unmistakable. The true proof of this is the fact that every one had a good time. The attendance was larger than usual and the large floor was practically full. Nearly eighty couples enjoyed the results of the committee's efforts. A considerable group of the necessary masculine complements invaded the academy Saturday afternoon to attend the Prom and spend the weekend.

As a result of the diligence of the members of the class the gym was tastefully decorated with a sloping roof of blue and gold streamers which greatly relieved the customary bareness of the high timbered roof. The decorators showed their individualism by not resorting to the numerous banners for decorating purposes and the room was improved by their absence. The orchestra was placed on the stage which was canopied with the streamers from the balcony and the top. From this vantage point the seven pieces of the Kahn Klub orchestra wove together the runs of peppy music that gave added vivacity to the evening. The favors consisted of silver pendants with a green stone on the end and suitably engraved on the back. The hostesses were Mrs. Ingham, Mrs. Farrell, Mrs. Hart, Mrs. Hyams, Miss Cock, Mrs. Bottger, and Mrs. Craig. The committee which deserves an abundance of credit was Chairman Griggs, Gove, Hart, Poor, and Hyams.

The following are the college choices of the graduating class of 1927 omitting two who will graduate on an English diploma: Budgell, Harvard; Calderwood, University of Pennsylvania; Fearnside, Massachusetts Institute of Technology; Hamilton, Yale; Lane, Antioch; Lawson, Williams; Pickering, Bowdoin; and Woodward, University of Pennsylvania.

EXETER TRIMS DUMMER NETMEN DECISIVELY

In the only match thus far the tennis team fared rather badly. The team went to Exeter on a cold rainy afternoon and for a while it looked as though the match would be called off, but it finally cleared enough to permit playing. Captain Griggs went down to defeat in straight sets. Sawyer and Palmer, playing numbers two and three respectively, fared likewise. Hosmer, Gove, and Moore did a little better against their stronger opponents. All these single matches were played at the same time. The fact that three of Exeter's six men were left-handed bothered the Dummer men more than a little. In the doubles the scores were much closer, particularly in the Palmer and Hosmer combination. The score of the match was 9 to 0. Although the results were not what one would call satisfactory from the ordinary standpoint, the team is greatly inspired to make up for this defeat by cinching the remaining matches for an almost clean slate.

PRACTICE GAME SHOWS SQUAD IMPROVING

The varsity journeyed to Newburyport on May 9 to play a practice game with the High School nine. Six innings were played while a constant drizzle covered the diamond.

Both teams remained scoreless for two innings. Bottger started off the hitting with a three-bagger followed by two-baggers from Hart and Calderwood. Incidentally Wally Temple drove a ball over the left field fence, but it was called foul spoiling a perfectly good home run. At the close of the practice the Red and White led 7 to 4. The hitting of the team has been increasing steadily since the first of the season, and at present there are five men who are batting for better than four hundred. The outcome for an even more successful season than last rests before the squad

The school sympathizes with Jack Farrell over the loss of his dog "Gyp" in an accident on the Turnpike.

GOLF TEAM TIES FAST STATE CHAMPS

Playing high calibre golf in the rain and mud of May 9, the Dummer golf team tied the fast Newton High team which holds the state championship from last year and has not been defeated by a Massachusetts team yet yet this year, by a 2 to 2 count. Coupling this with the fact that Wilson who regularly plays number three and Poor who would ordinarily hold down the number four position were not playing, it speaks very well for the Dummer group. In all fairness to Newton, however, it must be stated that their captain was not playing either. The match between the leaders was well played although there was no sensational shooting. English was never down but the match was always even or 1 up until he rattled off five successive pars to salt away the match 4 up and 2 to play. Fearnside's match also fluctuated back and forth more drastically than the first, but they came to the final green with the Dummer man leading 1 up. Here he canned a beautiful 20 footer to win 2 up. Griggs had bad luck on his wooden shots and moving up from the fifth to the third position did not work so well with him as he lost his match 7 up and 5 to play. Best, rated as number six, put up a hard fight in the fourth position. After being dormied at 2 down he struggled out of it only to lose on the nineteenth hole. His match was the last to come in and the nerve strain was considerable for a player of his experience as a win or a tie depended on his match. He did well. The results were:

English (D) defeated N. Gianferante (N) 4 up and 2 to play. Fearnside (D) defeated Manning (N) 2 up. Caruso (N) defeated Griggs (D) 7 up and 5 to play. Cady (N) defeated Best (D) nineteen holes.

MANY ENTERED FOR TENNIS TOURNAMENT

The entries for the tennis tournament closed May 16, and a large field entered the competition. The finals in both the singles and doubles will be on of the features of the day before Commencement. The only restrictions in the doubles are that no two members of the tennis team may pair up. However, there are several good tennis players who devote themselves to baseball or golf, and the competition should be keen.

EDITORIAL

"The time has come," the walrus said, "to talk of many things." Lewis Carroll must have written this line in the springtime for such a nonsensical piece of verse certainly belongs to that season. And there are many things to talk of during the spring. One of the most absorbing topics lately has been the Junior Promenade. This is quite natural and later the Senior Prom will hold sway over all others, but just as sure as the famous statement of Napoleon as to the location of Italy is true, so after the Proms come the College Boards is true. These especially loathesome obstacles to a peaceful entry into college are not to be taken lightly by any means. They come at the worst possible season for such work, and the preparation for them is long and arduous.

There is nothing ferocious to be feared about these examinations if one is well prepared. The questions are stiff without a doubt, but complete preparation is the one way to overcome them with the best results. In connection with the preparation of daily assignments and finals coming just before Commencement, a little time should be spent in view of the examinations coming just after Commencement. They are the clouds hanging over a wonderful spring, and it takes the Proms to dispell their shadow.

News of Interest

The Trustees of Dummer Academy met at the school on May 7 to take into consideration several current topics. The matter of a new garage to be put in when the old barn is fully torn down was one of the most important discussions, but the final statement was put over until the next session at Commencement. The matter of clearing up the mortgages was gone into but left until the meeting next month for final decision on the facts. The members present at the meeting were Judge Alden P. White, President; Mr. John H. Morse, donor of the new athletic field; Mr. J. Duncan Phillips; Mr. William E. Lang; Rev. Glenn Tilley Morse; Mr. Joseph N. Dummer; Mr. Walter H. Bentley; and Dr. Charles S. Ingham.

We are pleased to announce that both Roger Page of Lynnfield and James Tate of New York have accepted the nominations as members of Dr. Knudsen's delegation to Denmark for the summer.

Mrs. S. Stuart Brush arrived recently for a short stay with her parents at the school.

Mr. John H. Morse of Andover, a member of the Board of Trustees and donor of the new Morse Field, recently presented the school with a handsomely developed and framed picture of Dummer's first football team in 1885 of which he was the captain.

Negotiations for a basketball game with Tabor Academy have been opened up, and indications at present are that they will soon furnish one of our objective games on all schedules.

Sanborn Seminary and Lawrence Academy now furnish our objectives, but if we find Tabor to be in our class it would be a desirable addition.

The spring returfing and grading has been started, and by Commencement the ragged bits should be all smoothed out.

The speaker at the Baccalaureate service on the Sunday before Commencement will be Rev. A. Karl Skinner, of Haverhill.

GOLFERS WIN FIRST

..VICTORY FROM ST. JOHNS

On the afternoon of May 2 the Dummer golfers won their first match of two starts 5 to 2. The losers were the representatives of St. John's Prep and they were not in the running at all. Poor, the fourth man, and Griggs, fifth, did not play. When Dummer gets its full forces on the links they should give any team an argument. The first match was comfortably one-sided and English pulled through without much trouble, win-

In the Vatican a couple of tourists were looking at Moretto's painting of the Madonna and Saints. In this picture an apple is seen on the steps. One of the Saints, the stately Saint Bartholomew, is seen holding the emblem of his Martyrdom, a large knife. "Say," said one tourist, "I wonder what he is holding the knife for?" ## DUMMER HAS EASY TIME PLAYING WITH BELMONT HILL

Dummer took Belmont Hill into camp on Saturday afternoon in another easy victory. The final score was 25 to 8 and would have been even more in Dummer's favor probably, had a regular pitcher remained in the box throughout the game... But Mr. Reagan, with Dummer in the lead at the end of the third, 9 to 1, put Robinson, a youngster brought up from Dummer's intermediate squad, into the center of the diamond. Belmont, taking advantages of the break, pulled in seven runs in the next two innings. Then Mr. Reagan put Fitzsimmons back and the game proceeded under his good twirling.

After Wilson had disposed of Belmont's first three men, Dummer opened the scoring by pulling in five runs in the last half of the first inning. Calderwood hit safely, was advanced by Hart when he took a base on balls, and these two were brought in by Hyam's hit. Bottger advanced him and he took second when he and Hyams worked a double steal that caught the visitors napping. Wally Temple got to base on an error by Cole. Hyams got home on this hit, and Bottger and Temple followed on Sleeper's fly that was muffed by the center fielder.

Martin laid out a two bagger in Belmont's half of the second and came home on Kimble's hit. But Dummer doubled this tally in the second half of the inning. Hart hit safely. Then Wilson hit to the shortstop who muffed the grounder, and Wilson got to first. Hart took third on the same error, and the two got in before the third out.

Robinson went in for Wilson in the beginning of the next inning. K. Martin, first up, hit him and took first base. Elwell laced out a fly to left field that was muffed and advanced Martin to second. Kimble brought him home, and Kimble and Elwell got home on F. Martin's sacrifice. Speare took first on balls and got around on Winkley's and Cole's hits. Dummer got two runs in the fourth inning; and in the next Belmont scored three times. K. Martin rapped out a two bagger, and Elwell and Kimble both hit safely. Speare got up later and knocked these two home, but was unable to score himself.

Dummer put Fitzsimmons into the box in the next inning and commenced to clean up royally. Everybody got on base but Wally Temple, whose luck at the bat seemed to desert him in the last three innings. Fourteen runs came in before Dummer's last raps, in the last half of the eighth. Dummer has now played six games and has received a setback in only one of them. If the good work keeps up the season will be one of the best the Red and White has had for some time.

RAIN ENDS GAME BUT DUMMER WINS 5 TO 0

Wednesday afternoon the Dummer baseball team was called on unexpectedly to play a game with Manchester High. The visitors believed that the game was scheduled for yesterday afternoon, but Dummer's schedule reads differently.

However, the game was played although called on account of rain in the last of the sixth. Dummer was being coached by Mr. Smith, Mr. Reagan being away on a hard-earned rest. The score was 5 to 0 in Dummer's favor. Calderwood hit first to centerfield, got on first, stole second, and was advanced home by Hart. This was in the third and Calderwood started off again and was followed by Hart, Wilson and Hyams. The two pitchers were quite evenly matched and the pitching battle was very interesting. The umpire was Mr. Lehmann.

EXETER LINKSMEN WINNERS OVER DUMMER

On the afternoon of May 14 the Dummer golfers fell before the stick-work of Exeter's linksmen 9 to 1. The match was played on the Exeter Country Club course and as all the matches were close this had considerable to do with the result. The course falls far short of the standards of Ould Newbury and its peculiarities had the Dummerites baffled. However, Exeter's two stars did not participate so Dummer was fortunate to make the match close. The Exeter team will enter the National Interscholastics at Greenwich, New York this week as the favorites to win the team title for which they placed a close second last year. Captain Finlay has been runner-up for the individual title for two years and is expected to win the honor this year. With this background Dummer feels no shame in losing to the team. The first pair hardly shot the golf they were capable of, but they kept the matches close all the way. The second pair were playing very well considering the strange course, and the bagged Dummer's lone point. The four individual matches were played on the one point to a match basis, and the four-ball matches were played under the Nassau system which allows three points to a match. Wilson's snappy birdie on the home hole enabled his team to win the second nine and one point. The results:

Hemelright (E) defeated English (D) 1 up. Lovell (E) defeated Fearnside (D) 3 up and 2 to play. Voge (E) defeated Wilson (D) 2 up and 1 to play. Sand (E) defeated Best (D) 4 up and 3 to play.

Hemelright and Lovell (E) won all three points from English and Fearnside (D). Voge and Sand (E) won 2 points and Wilson and Best (D) won 1 point in the four-ball.

Those sweet melodious songs
That open the heart and heaven's

They know no earthly ways.
Oh God thy works are clearly shown
If they hap to be not known.
